

Top Secret Report Given On Russia's Atom Bomb Efforts

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special atomic report compiled recently at White House direction probably is being amplified to reassess Russia's nuclear weapons program under the new Kremlin regime.

The report, carrying a high secrecy label, was understood to have been prepared for President Eisenhower following his White House talk with the Atomic Energy Commission a few weeks ago.

Along with details of U. S. progress and plans in the atomic field it presumably contains the latest available information from scientific and agent sources on Soviet efforts. But since then a new regime has come to power in Moscow.

New Boss Ruthless

Under that regime, the already considerable state and political power of Lavrenti P. Beria, a ruthless and coldly calculating official, appears to have become greater.

Beria wears several official hats. He is boss of the secret police. Now he heads both the Interior and State Security Ministries, combined when Malenkov picked up the reins held by the dead Stalin. And Beria is director of the Soviet atomic energy program.

Beria's job fit together. His Interior Ministry gives him a firm hand for acquiring the brains, brawn and material needed in the atomic program. Control of the secret police brings with it control of external as well as internal espionage — the operation of the atomic spy network which has worked so well for Russia.

No More Experiments

Beria, so far as is known, has no scientific background to qualify him for direction of the Soviet atomic program. He doesn't especially need it. To a nucleus of able Russian physicists he has added scientists kidnaped or lured from Germany, England and elsewhere.

The U. S. was profoundly concerned about Soviet successes in the atomic effort even before the advent of the new Russian regime compelled a new look at the danger of war.

Paradoxically, American atomic and military officials are not happy.

Congressional Quiz On Korean War Will Cover Many Phases

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional investigation into reported ammunition shortages appeared today to be expanded to take in other phases of the war in Korea—but not the whole war.

Democratic senators made it plain they will fight any effort to expose what they regard as military secrets to public view in a broad-scale inquiry such as that suggested by Sen. Taft (R-Ohi).

And Sen. Knowland of California, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee in the Senate, said yesterday, "It would not be profitable at this time to have a general investigation of the Korean War."

Top Men Disagree

His statement, on an NBC television program, brought to light a difference between two of the top GOP figures in the Senate. Taft is Republican floor leader.

"We should concentrate on ammunition," Knowland said, "and not expose our hand with a general investigation."

Senators Sparkman (D-Ala) and Green (D-DI) deplored in separate interviews any possible effort by Congress to influence military decisions or, as they put it, "to run the war."

Taft said he thinks it might be well for the lawmakers to investigate not only the ammunition situation—as the Senate Armed Services Committee already is doing—but also the circumstances surrounding truce talks and the handing of Communist prisoners.

The Ohio senator said the idea may be broached at a meeting of GOP legislative leaders with President Eisenhower today.

Would Help Kremlin

Sen. Tobey (R-NH) said he saw no reason why the public shouldn't be informed about these matters, adding that "nothing has discour-

Slate Meetings On School Bond Proposal Here

A proposed $250,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new elementary school in southwest Escanaba will be explained at a series of PTA meetings in the city this week.

The proposal for construction of the new school will be submitted to voters here April 6.

Tonight C. Gust Peterson, school board member, will speak on the bond proposal at a meeting of the Washington School Parent-Teacher association and Supt. John Lemmer will discuss the issue at a meeting of the Webster PTA. The Washington PTA meeting is slated for 8 p.m., and the Webster meeting at 7:45 p.m.

Tuesday, Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, a board member, will discuss the proposal at a meeting of the Barr PTA at 7:30 p.m.; Charles Follo, school board president, will speak at the Jefferson PTA meeting, which starts at 7:30 p.m., and George Ruwitch, assistant school superintendent, will speak at a meeting of the Franklin PTA, beginning at 8 p.m.

Fine Two Youths For Contributing To Delinquency

Two nineteen-year-old youths pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Rangnette's court to charges of contributing to the delinquency of two minor girls and paid fines of $50 and costs of $8.25 each.

They are: Ralph H. Olson, Escanaba Rte. 1, and George Challenger Jr., Escanaba Rte. 1.

Escanaba police arrested the two young men at 1:50 a.m. Sunday in a truck with the two girls on Ludington Street in the 1400 block.

Tonight Deadline To Register For Spring Election

Tonight at eight p.m. is the deadline for registration of voters for the spring election April 6. City Clerk George Harvey has announced, but registrations for the school election to be held on the same day will be accepted to March 27 at five o'clock.

Voters already registered for the spring election and who register up to eight o'clock tonight may vote on all of the issues and candidates in the April 6 election, including the special school bond proposal.

Voters not registered by tonight may still vote on the school issue only by registering before March 27 at 5 p.m.

Arnsen Site Approved For New Grade School

The Escanaba Board of Education Saturday approved the location of the proposed new elementary public school on a 7½ acre tract of land recently purchased by the School District from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnsen. The property is located a block west and south of the Royce Park playground.

The decision of the Board of Education followed a joint meeting of the Board with the members of the Escanaba Planning Commission and the City Recreation Board.

The joint meeting was held

Students Pledge Funds For School

Catholic students of various parishes participating in the Catholic Central High School program are voluntarily pledging their own funds to help pay for the new school, campaign headquarters reported this morning.

Pledge cards in sums ranging to $80, to be paid over the 20-month period of the collection period, are being turned in by the students to campaign headquarters. Rev. O'Neill D'Amour, campaign executive chairman, said the move was spontaneous.

Rev. Stephen Schneider, O.F.M., pastor of St. Joseph Church, Escanaba, reported the movement hit a peak at St. Joseph School last week when students began crowding into his office, requesting blank pledge cards. A rush call was sent out to campaign headquarters, and an emergency supply of pledge cards quickly was sent to the school. There lines of students paraded by a battery of student typists who filled out the pledge cards for the students' signatures.

The first payment on a student pledge came in the day following this rush.

It was a cash payment—for 25 cents. That youngster has $19.75 to go before Oct. 31, 1954, the final date for payment of all pledges.

School authorities are convinced he'll make it.

Folk Songs, Dances Feature For EHS, Gladstone Party

American games, folk songs and folk dancing will be on the entertainment program Tuesday night when Gladstone high school students entertain EHS students.

Members of the Escanaba Senior High School Mortarboard Club and the Orange and Black club will be guests of the Gladstone Hi-Y Club and the Senior Girls League at the party in the Gladstone gym.

Miss Roma Irons and Allan Mathison of Escanaba and Supt. Wallace Cameron and Miss Margaret Schenk of Gladstone will be in charge.

The party, to be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m., is designed to promote inter-school cooperation. About 130 students are expected for the event.

Last year, Escanaba's Orange and Black Club was host at a similar party for the Gladstone Hi-Y Club.

Ace's Wife Hopes He'll Be Careful

McKINNEY, Tex. (AP)—The wife of the nation's top jet ace doesn't have any more advice for Col. Royal N. Baker of McKinney, Tex., who shot down his 11th Communist jet fighter yesterday.

"I just wish he would be careful and come on home," said Mrs. Sarah Baker.

Baker brought down the Red jet at 37,000 feet over Northwest Korea to equal the MIG-destroying record of Maj. George A. Davis Jr., the Lubbock, Tex., Sabre pilot who holds the overall record of 11 MIGs and three Communist light bombers destroyed. Davis was shot down and believed killed Feb. 10, 1952, on his 59th combat mission. He is listed as missing in action.

Baker has only five Red stars painted beneath the cockpit of his Sabre because Sarah has warned him not to be a "hero."

"Oh, it's okay," Mrs. Baker said last night of her husband's record, and she indicated the victory string didn't carry too much weight with the couple's four children.

"They're more interested in playing cowboys and Indians."

Baker is commander of the 4th Fighter Interceptor Group. He has flogen 125 combat missions and has about six more to fly before he is due for rotation home at the end of this month.

Atop each peak will be 12,000 pounds of microwave relay equipment, including generators and dish-type antennas. Manning the gear on each peak will be two technicians, cooking on a portable stove and sleeping nights in pup tents as they prepare for the coverage.

Over the last 20 years Miami Beach has opened an average of one hotel and four apartment buildings per month but the town has no cemetery, no airport or railroad and no manufacturing plants:

Mrs. Finnegan, Daughter Killed

Mrs. Patricia Finnegan, wife of Stanley Finnegan, and her daughter, Marion Patricia, of Fort Campbell, Ky., former residents of Escanaba, were instantly killed Sunday in an automobile-truck collision near Springfield, Ill.

Mr. Finnegan who was driving and a son, Gary, were hospitalized.

The accident occurred as the family was enroute to Springfield to buy a boat.

Mrs. Finnegan is survived by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Givens of Daytona Beach, Fla., in addition to her husband and son.

The bodies will be brought to Escanaba and will be taken to the Allo Funeral Home. Arrangements for the services will be completed later.

Two Local Students At Western Injured In Auto Accident

Warren Johnston and Paul Gunderman, two Escanaba students at Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, sustained minor injuries in an automobile accident in Holland early Friday night when a car in which they were riding struck a telephone pole.

Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnston, 501 S. 13th St., suffered a severed tendon on the middle finger of the right hand and facial bruises. He will be released from the Holland hospital today or Tuesday.

Gunderman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken L. Gunderman, 1011 8th Ave. S., suffered facial bruises and an abrasion of the hand. He was released from the hospital after treatment and ex-ray examination Friday night.

Two boys from Holland also were involved in the accident. One of them, the driver of the car, sustained a possible fracture of the leg. He lost control of the car on slippery ice when he swerved to avoid an oncoming car in the center lane.

The boys were planning to spend the weekend in Holland and to visit the training camp of Rocky Marciano, the heavyweight champion.

Johnston and Gunderman are second semester transfer students at Western Michigan. Johnston transferred from Michigan Tech, Houghton, and Gunderman transferred from Marquette University, Milwaukee.

Red Cross Work In County Told

Financial assistance totaling $3,600 was given members of the armed forces and veterans and their families and to certain civilians in Delta County from July 1, 1951-January 30, 1953, Delta County Red Cross Chapter reported in connection with its 1953 membership drive now in progress.

A pamphlet issued by the chapter itemizes Red Cross work in the county over the 19-month period.

"The civilians" who received aid included such persons as legitimately stranded transients. Mrs. Nyal Witham, executive secretary of the chapter now on leave of absence, amplified this morning. She cited an Indian family, found sitting in the bus station one midnight. The mother had lost her purse on the bus in Chicago and she, her husband and two children were stranded. The Red Cross found the family a room, gave them breakfast and lunch, and re-launched them, meanwhile wiring Chicago about the purse. The purse was found, money intact, and was forwarded to the woman.

The Red Cross also spent $1,542 to help 40 adults and 30 children who were victims of 20 fires or complete burnouts in the county during the 19 months, the pamphlet reported.

Delta County Junior Red Cross members filled 152 gift boxes for needy overseas children. The 7,200 JRC boys and girls also contributed $100 to the National Children's Fund, the leaflet says. The Witham explained that $50 of this went to relief of flood-victimized children, in the United States, the other $50 to Korean children.

The Red Cross gave first and to 23 persons during the period, at such places as the fair, conventions and the School Music Festival. Two hundred and twenty-three persons were trained in first aid, the leaflet states, and 15 persons trained as first aid instructors.

Second only to first aid in number of people trained was swimming or lifesaving, in which 213 persons participated. Ten water safety instructors were trained.

The Red Cross points out in the pamphlet that none of the 86 volunteers who gave a total of 1600 hours of service during the 19 months received any money in pay.

Volunteers pay for their own transportation and meals at meetings, the Chapter reported.

Site Selected For New School Meets Expansion Requirements

THE decision of the Board of Education to locate the proposed new elementary school on the so-called Arnsen site, a 7 1/2 acre tract purchased recently by the School District, represents the consensus of opinion of not only the School Board but the members of the city planning commission and the city recreation board as well.

This property is located near Royce Park. It is an area that is fast developing and it is a tract of land large enough to permit the construction of a modern school with adequate "growing" potentialities.

The Royce Park area itself was considered as a possible site for the new school but this parcel of land is not regarded as large enough for today's land requirements for a new school. Also it is already at least partially developed as a playground site and to convert it now for a school site would necessarily cause considerable disturbance.

Inescapably at least one additional elementary school will be needed in the south section of the city before many years have passed. This school may be only a primary school, kindergarten through third grade, probably to be located east and south of the site of the new elementary school now under consideration.

The bond issue proposal to be submitted to the electors on April 6 provides for $250,000 to be raised by taxation over a period not to exceed 14 years. In all probability the entire issue will be redeemed in about eight years with a special assessment or less than four mills.

It is a project that provides no undue financial burden upon the taxpayers and it meets a need that is extremely critical.

There are few people in Escanaba who can conscientiously say that there is no real need for the construction of a new public elementary school. The need has been proved beyond any doubt and the youngsters are already here.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

(Answers to questions of general interest will be published.)

hectic—T. T. C., Jersey City, N. J.—Yes, despite the fact that until recent years, hectic was used only as a medical term applied specifically to persons wasting away with some consumptive fever, it has now taken on a far different meaning.

Now one speaks of a hectic day, party, journey, task or, a few months ago, a hectic campaign.

The meaning is excited, feverish, restless, wild, or the like. This meaning probably arose from the appearance of excitement, the flushed cheeks and bright eyes, characteristic of a person with consumptive fever.

bimonthly—"What expression, considered to be good English, signifies 'once every two months'?"—Miss M. H. L., Oklahoma City, Okla.

The term bimonthly is now given that meaning exclusively. It is true that bimonthly was formerly used also at times to mean "twice a month," but that meaning is now indicated by semimonthly.

sour grapes—"Referring to the proverb, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge,' just what significance does this have? As everyone's teeth are set on edge, I cannot quite get the point of this saying?"—Mrs. L. R. J., East Aurora, N. Y.

The quotation from Ezekiel XVIII: 2, is purely figurative. By "teeth set on edge" is meant the sensation of tingling or grating of the teeth from eating anything strongly acid, such as sour grapes, unripe grapefruit, unripe persimmons, etc. The proverb aptly describes current conditions.

The present generation has lived in an orgy of spending. The grapes that we have enjoyed, from wars to automobiles, must be paid for by our children and our children's children, setting their teeth on edge.

Power Is The Weakness Of Communist Delusion

AS the world looks back now upon Joseph Stalin's long chronicle of tyranny, some men will rise and say his greatest crime was that he corrupted a "good faith"—the original communism of the Soviet pioneers.

These are the men who do not understand the nature of totalitarianism. These are the men who, though they may have consciously rejected communism, still find themselves subconsciously captivated by the ideals of cooperation for human betterment which it professes.

This lingering attraction blinds them to the fact that communism never was a good faith.

It never was a good faith because it inevitably had to sanction violence in the enforcement of the "cooperation" it exalted. When the government runs the country's whole life, it cannot tolerate for long any marked interference with its plans. If a plan is to work, it must be accepted by all. There is no room for dissenters.

Communism never was a good doctrine, furthermore, because it called for the concentration of power in the hands of a few—acting in the name of all. Yet it took no account of how power inescapably corrodes the souls and hearts of men.

This is its great weakness. It ignores the realities of the human quest for power that marks the affairs of men under all governments, free or slave.

Communism cannot operate without rigid control by a tight nucleus of men. That control means colossal power. And that power always becomes itself the great crime, blotting out visions of a bettered human society.

In Russia, if Stalin had not seized this power, Trotsky or Kamenev or some other would have. It was not just Stalin as such who corrupted. The Communist system corrupts itself.

This must be grasped if many men in the world today are to brush away the last shining fragments of a once glowing delusion. They must understand that the Communist dream turns to ashes that moment when it leaves men's minds and enters the realm of action.

In the play, "Darkness at Noon," based on the celebrated novel by Arthur Koestler, a typical Communist jailer-executioner comes to take on old Red revolutionary to the gallows for "confessed" crimes against the state. He allows the man a last word.

Beginning this reply, the revolutionary puts his hand on the jailer's shoulder and says: "My son . . ." The jailer thrusts his hand off and blurts: "I'm not your son!" Then the revolutionary says sadly: "Oh yes you are. That's the horror of it."

Thus, eloquently, he reveals communism's heart. Written in humanity's name, it is a doctrine which leads men unavoidably to the naked use of power for the destruction of humanity.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here are some little-known facts about Josef Stalin in his relations with the U. S. A.

Probably Harry Truman is the only person who ever bawled out Josef Stalin since the day when he became top man in Soviet Russia.

For years all of Russia bowed before the ruler in the Kremlin. His word was law. No one around him ever questioned it. However, the little man from Missouri, newly made President of the United States in 1945, gave Stalin a bawling-out which those around Truman have never forgotten. It was as if he were talking to a music critic or a newspaper columnist.

The incident occurred during the first few minutes of play at the Potsdam conference. Stalin had arrived one day late. Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, and Secretary of State Jimmie Byrnes had been on time, had sat around waiting for him. Official reason for Stalin's delay was that the train across Poland and East Germany had got held up, which, considering rail conditions in that war-torn area in 1945, may have been true.

However, as the first Potsdam session opened, Truman took the floor and proceeded to tell Stalin that sessions were going to begin on time, were going to follow a regular schedule, and went on to outline what he proposed doing. Aiming his remarks directly at Stalin, he talked with such vigor that Churchill looked at Jimmie Byrnes with a view to getting the new President to take his seat.

This proved impossible. But, driving back to their headquarters, Secretary Byrnes was on the verge of suggesting that it might be wise for Truman not to antagonize Stalin during the first session of the conference, when Harry Vaughan piped up.

"That was wonderful, Chief," he enthused. "You certainly did bawl him out. Pour it on him again."

Note—Truman also bawled out Foreign Minister Molotov in Washington when the latter arrived her in April, 1945, after Roosevelt's death. Chip Bohlen, now ambassador to Russia, who served as interpreter for Truman, told his superiors that he had never heard a foreign dignitary bawled out in such language. It lasted for over an hour.

STALIN SCOLDS

Stalin in turn has done some bawling out. The late Wendell Willkie once told me how he had been entertained at a gala dinner in the Kremlin which featured a pleasant round of toasts to the allies.

Suddenly Stalin let loose a diatribe against the British whom he accused of "stealing" 16 air cobras which the United States was shipping to Murmansk, but which had been taken of the vessel in Scotland.

Willkie said he had seldom heard such bitter language from a high official at a public function—and with the British Ambassador present. Later it was discovered that the 16 cobras had been removed from the ship after General Eisenhower had appealed personally to Churchill. He wanted them for the African invasion. The British were not to blame, but probably Stalin never did learn the true facts.

STALIN'S MOTHER

In recent years, Stalin has seen few Americans, nor even many foreign ambassadors. At Teheran he complained that his health was not good. Prior to Yalta he refused to leave Russia on the grounds of health. Roosevelt at that time was in far worse health, yet traveled halfway around the world to see Stalin. He died four months later.

Various Americans such as Willkie and Harry Hopkins who saw Stalin during the war, usually were ushered in to see him late at night. He worked until 2 and 3 a.m. Churchill went to the Kremlin in his specially made zipper suit, looking like a teddy bear; and Stalin said he wanted a suit like that too. Occasionally one of the visitors met the dictator's mistress, described as a plump and none too attractive Russian woman of about 45.

One American who managed to get in a few words with Stalin at the Bolshoi Theatre some years ago was Carleton Smith of the National Arts Foundation. Smith had met Stalin's mother near Tiflis in 1936, found her to be a kindly, wrinkled old lady living in a mud hut dug into the side of a hill.

She remarked that she had raised her boy to be a priest.

"I hear now," she added, "that he is running all of Russia, but I don't believe it."

Stalin listened to Smith's account of his mother but did not appear pleased.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing—Paper license plates are in prospect for Michigan motorists next year. Sample tags are being used on about eight police cars to test their durability.

Escanaba—Mrs. Valeria Elliott, who was 81 years old yesterday, was the guest of honor at a surprise party arranged by a group of her friends.

Danforth—Mr. and Mrs. George Chaillier entertained at a group of relatives at a dinner party following the christening of their infant son, Thomas Louis.

Gladstone—J. G. Wells, director of the Michigan State Experimental Farm at Chatham, and Miss Olga Ludwick, home economics expert, will come to Gladstone on Tuesday, March 16, at 2 o'clock to address a gathering of interested persons at the city hall council chambers.

20 YEARS AGO

Powers—Dr. J. W. Towey, superintendent of Pinecrest sanatorium has declared that operation of the institution is threatened by the state legislature's failure to appropriate sufficient funds to pay for the care of state cases.

Gladstone—The question of levying a tax for the maintenance of the city band will be submitted to the voters at the spring election.

Escanaba—George E. Harvey, manager of the local branch office for the sale of automobile license plates, says the plates are being sold very slowly. The bank holiday, tying up deposits, is believed to be the cause.

Q—What treatment is used for chronic cystic mastitis?

A—Not infrequently the removal of a single cystic nodule of the breast may be sufficient. Restriction of salt and fluid intake is sometimes advised. The use of a drug or of a hormone preparation is sometimes helpful, as is X-ray treatment. If all these treatments fail and too many cysts form in the breast, removal of the breast has to be considered, but this is not often favored in simple mastitis.

Q—What treatment is used for chronic cystic mastitis?

A—This is an inflammation of the bones of the spine, usually caused by tuberculosis. It is serious and requires expert treatment.

The Ties That Bind

East Germany Youngsters Taught By Reds To Spy On German Parents

(Part Two)

By FRED SPARKS

BERLIN (NEA) — "I denounce my parents for preparing to leave Eastern Germany and go to the West."

So ran a recent letter in "Young World," the newspaper of the semi-militarized Communist Free German Youth (FDJ).

It was signed by a 13-year-old snitch.

The editor noted: "This Pioneer is commended for alertness."

Parents of this poisoned child will be panel members at a brass-knuckled quiz program in the rear of a secret police station. The jackpot prize: Up to 24 rent-free months in a damp cell.

Communist youth organization for children under 14. Herr Streitz had his fill of totalitarian tots under Hitler and refused permission.

Right now thousands are fleeing lovely life under Leninism before, as anticipated, the last easy exit from the Russian zone

They refused to return home and were housed with a relative, a functionary in the Frankfurt Communist Party. He later was made legal guardian of Klara and Ingeborg.

The parents, ordered to face "obstructionism" charges, took a train for Berlin and the West.

Since Fall East Germany has been pressuring farmers to meet impossible delivery quotas. Communist youth are searching for hoarders.

Fifteen-year-old Robert Pelzer, in Chemnitz, Saxony, said his father buried several bushels of corn behind the barn when the Government checker called.

Investigators proved Robert's squeal accurate and Papa was caged for "economic crime."

It meant nothing that he insisted if he met his quota his family, including sickly Robert, would starve.

At a full dress ceremony, complete with the roll of drums and a visiting party potentate from Berlin, Robert Pelzer was praised as an "ideal Bolshevik and patriotic fighter."

The boy will go a long way.

Another delightful twist was related by an East German army lieutenant the day he escaped to West Berlin. An handsome 20-year-old, he still wore his Soviet-style uniform and paratrooper boots.

He showed me a snap of the blonde fraulein who was his undoing and explained: "FDJ girls, 16 to 20, hang around beer stubs

To cut the flow, small fry are urged to keep a private eye on friends and relatives who might be packing.

West German intelligence officers state that scores of arrests to prevent flight are based on data supplied by juvenile stool pigeons.

"Junge Welt's" unique letters-to-the-editor column, which glorifies teen-age tattle tales, is another flash back to Hitler's House of Horror. Then Hitler Youth sniffed around for anyone suggesting the Brown Shirts had bloody hands.

The U. S. High Commissioner's Office, after an extensive peep behind the Iron Curtain, reported: "The FDJ serves as an 'information service.' Their members (seven million kids, six to 24) have the duty to denounce instances of deviations from the Communist Party line in homes, factories, schools, in the administration and (even) in the secret police."

Recently Hans Streitz and his wife, factory workers from Frankfurt-on-Oder, Soviet Zone, reached the American sanctuary and told this story:

Their two daughters, Klara and Ingeborg, wanted to join The Pioneers, semi-militarized Com-

Evangelist Graham May Book Detroit In Portable Tabernacle

DETROIT (P) — Billy Graham may hold a series of evangelistic meetings in Detroit next fall.

The venture depends on whether a 12,000-seat portable aluminum tabernacle can be completed in time.

The circular, 200-ton tabernacle is scheduled for fabrication in Longview, Tex., and assembly in Detroit. It will be erected on the state fairgrounds, possibly in the middle of the race track there.

A committee now is at work making arrangements for the proposed meeting.

The Detroit meeting would start in late September. After that the tabernacle is slated for shipment to England for three campaigns there.

New Slum Clearance Association Formed Under G. Yates Cook

WASHINGTON (P) — G. Yates Cook, who directed slum clearance in Baltimore as head of the city's housing bureau, became head of a new department of urban redevelopment of the National Association of Home Builders.

The association said Cook would direct a nation-wide campaign by private builders aimed at:

1. Rehabilitating slum housing at landlords' expense through enforcement of existing health, sanitation and safety laws.

2. Remodeling and modernizing old but sound houses taken by builders as "trade-ins" on new homes.

3. Redevelopment of large-scale blighted areas with assistance by local authorities in condemning property and contributing to clearing costs.

Legislature Fouls Up Tax Bill Good

By JACK L. GREEN

to get more money without adopting the Williams corporation profits tax.

There are those who think that in the end the Legislature will have to come to it, but right now it looks farther away than ever.

The thing which really put the cork on Williams' tax plan was the ill-fated tax conference between the governor and legislative leaders Wednesday.

From the outside, it appears the fatal error was in having Williams' state controller, Robert F. Steadman, suddenly announced with a happy little smile that there was no fiscal emergency right now.

This type of strategy could only have been conceived of by some one completely isolated from legislative thinking.

Costly Bust

Big business' rather lofty decision to settle the thing for the boys up in Lansing proved to be the biggest and most costly bust of recent years.

To a very large extent, the lawmakers' weaving and struggling represents a frantic attempt to find some way—almost any way in the first place, the lawmakers haven't forgotten they were called into a special session last December to meet a money emergency in January, only to discover the emergency never really developed.

In the second place, they had decided there definitely was an emergency.

Now that the Democrats want to stop passage of the Higgins due date bill they suddenly discover that there is no emergency.

One of the saddest sights has been the business effort to settle the problem.

Business leaders decided to take matters into their own hands, to bring in high-powered tax constituents and their own tax attorneys. They purposely froze out their experienced legislative lobbyists.

The capitol had the amusing sight of seeing powerhouse lobbyists trotting around like school boys, buying each edition of the papers to see what was going on.

The business experts came out with a set of recommendations so intellectually dishonest or so impractical that their best friends laughed.

Dresses, Suits For Year-Round Wear

Late-day dress for Spring (left) is Grabois design in pale yellow. Supple wool jersey in light weight is used for top; skirt is a drift of silk chiffon. Featherweight wool (center) makes two-piece suit in yellow-gold; brick red scarf is slipped through slot inserted in back.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Woolens are "light as air" here for spring. They're shown in late-day dresses, in suits, in day dresses, in separates, coats, shawls and stoles. These are the woolens that drape with fluidity of soft silk.

Because they are so light and therefore adaptable, they're good companions for a greater part of the year. No longer need you wear your spring woolens for a short time only, then pack them away.

You will want to wear the new woolens many days throughout the year. They lend versatility to your wardrobe, enabling you to get more "miles" out of it—perhaps with even fewer pieces of clothing—than you ever got before.

into body of jacket. Neckline is the rounded, cardigan type; skirt is straight and slim. Navy-and-white returns for Spring (right) in this wool dress with frills of handkerchief-weight white linen at neck and cuffs. Slim silhouette is marked by lean midriff.

Because these lightweights are soft to the touch, they impart an air of softness and femininity to the silhouette. Designers are using them in company where they've never appeared before—with cotton, chiffon, taffeta and jersey. They make linings for wool jersey suits and coats and for evening coats.

For travel, these new lightweights possess obvious advantages. They take up less space in luggage and also weigh less. They're suitable to many climates, can be worn even in the subtropics and tropics. And they possess the springy resiliency that characterizes all good woolens.

Entertainment Business Jumpy In Every Phase

by BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To anyone who covers the entertainment industry one thing is evident—every phase of it has the jumps.

Take the movie industry. You hear a lot of brave talk about new dimensions. But everyone knows that 3-D can be only a temporary shot of adrenal in. The only thing that will help the movie business is good pictures, and the studios can not make enough of them.

Can't Find Sponsors

TV, too, has the jitters. Some big shows are finding ready buyers, but a great number of advertisers are shying away from the huge prices asked for programs. As one network official told me: "We've got the shows, but we can't find the sponsors to pay a million dollars for them."

In the postwar era, the record business began to feel the twin pinches of less spending money and family interest in TV. But a technological advance—the development of long-playing records—brought renewed interest in home phonographs.

The film industry and—to a lesser degree—the TV concerns are also pinning their futures on the technicians. In the picture business, the advances have been well publicized. There are the big-screen, audience participation devices (Cinerama, Cinemascope) and the 3-D stereoscopic gimmicks (Natural Vision, Paravision, etc.).

Color TV Awaited

There are a number of other scientific innovations that could spell renewed fortune for the film stars—improved color, closed-circuit theater TV, etc.

TV also awaits advances—the use of the color tube, the possibility of 3-D TV, larger screens, etc.

And then there are the gadgets which would effect a marriage between the movie and TV industries—Phonovision, Telemeter, etc. These would collect from the home viewers for the privilege of seeing Hollywood movies.

Many people in both industries hope something will happen—and soon.

Today's Recipes

Peach and Cherry Cobbler

Ingredients: 2½ cups drained cling peach slices, ¼ cup syrup from peaches, ¾ cup drained canned sour cherries, ¾ cup syrup from cherries, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 1 ½ cup shortening, ¼ cup evaporated milk.

Method: Heat fruits and syrups. Mix together sugar, cornstarch and ¼ teaspoon salt; add to heated fruits and syrups and, stirring, bring to boil. Pour into shallow 9-inch baking dish. Sift together flour, remaining ½ teaspoon salt and baking powder. Blend in shortening with pastry blender or fingers. Add milk and mix well. Turn onto floured board or pastry cloth and roll to fit top of dish. Cut slits in dough. Fit dough over

Few people can get along with our friends— one reason why some of us become "joiners," members of social clubs, professional societies and church organizations. Most young people when they sign their name to a membership card hope that their new affiliation will help make new pals.

Some young people are puzzled about friendships. Either their best gal doesn't live up to their expectations insofar as expecting loyalty from a true friend is concerned or they find it impossible to make really good friends, no matter how they try.

Dr. William C. Menninger, writing in the Life Adjustment Booklet, "Making and Keeping Friends," stresses that it is a good idea to take occasional inventories of your friendships to examine what your friendships mean to you, and whether you can improve your relations with others.

He suggests this friendship checklist, offering a number of questions to start you on your fruit. Bake in hot (400F.) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm, plain or with cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

These things suggested by Dr. Menninger are worth thinking about. It is only by knowing where the trouble is that the "no-friend" sickness can be treated. When you've found the key to the door of friendship, it is easy to make friends.

These things suggested by Dr. Menninger are worth thinking about. It is only by knowing where the trouble is that the "no-friend" sickness can be treated. When you've found the key to the door of friendship, it is easy to make friends.

Even after you make a friend, you are likely to have your ups and downs, Dr. Menninger says. Sometimes you expect too much from a friend and become impatient or disappointed in her when she doesn't come through. Another time you may discover that you don't care for your friend any more.

But more often, he says, "the explanation is simply that moods and interests change from one day to the next. You may feel right now that you couldn't get along without Celia, but there were probably times when you didn't care if you ever saw her again . . ."

Such ups and downs shouldn't alarm you if they happen once in a while. Everyone experiences them, he reminds us. But if the friendship is worth while we should try to keep the "downs" to a minimum.

Reasons why you can't make friends might be: an selfish "what's in it for me" attitude, a desire to have endless compliments, praise and applause from friends, a fear of making friends, an "inferiority complex" (a feeling that you're not as good as other people), a repulsive aggressiveness due to an insecure and inadequate feeling, too many acquaintances which precludes having real friendships. Then there are home handicaps such as that faded slipcover or worn rug that you are ashamed of. Or perhaps your family is well to do but doesn't enjoy the company of young people.

These things suggested by Dr. Menninger are worth thinking about. It is only by knowing where the trouble is that the "no-friend" sickness can be treated. When you've found the key to the door of friendship, it is easy to make friends.

Housewarming Party

A group of women drove to Gees, Thursday afternoon for a housewarming party for Mrs. Leonard Nelson, a former resident of Rapid River. The group played cards in the afternoon and presented Mrs. Nelson with a gift for her home. Lunch was served. Those attending were Mrs. Matilda Caswell, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Dusty Mahon, Mrs. Shirley Sandstrom, Mrs. Frank Gerlach, Mrs. Ken Scott, Mrs. Gunnar Nelson and Mrs. Al Paul.

Austrian Musical Exports Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—Austria, famous musically as the land of waltzes, is on its way back to its pre-war musical export-import balance of 18 to 1, according to the Austrian consulate general here.

Austria's Society of Authors, Composers and Music Publishers, responsible for collection and distribution of royalties, reported that the country was exporting five times as many pieces of music as were imported. In earnings from abroad, this accounted for the dollar-equivalent of about $580,000 in 1952, compared with about $475,000 in 1951.

Trojans Win Third Straight District Cage Title

Brilliant Second Half Rally Nets 64-44 Win

NEGAUNEE — The St. Joseph Trojans staged an almost unbelievable reversal of form in the second half of the Class C district championship game here Saturday night to whip L'Anse by a 64-44 margin.

Trailing 17-6 at the end of the first period and 34-22 at the half, Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans opened a blistering attack that completely smothered L'Anse in the final two periods to win their third straight district crown.

The third period saw St. Joe score 22 points while holding L'Anse to a mere field goal and four free throws. The Trojans entered the fourth quarter leading 44-40. The fading L'Anse cagers were limited to only four points in the final frame while the Trojans whipped 20 through the laces.

Press Kills L'Anse

A Trojan press and a tight zone turned L'Anse's game into a shambles in the last two periods of play. The L'Anse cagers were barely able to move the ball across the midcourt line and time after time the hustling Trojans capitalized on bad passes to steal the ball for drive-in layups.

It was a team victory in every sense of the phrase for the St. Germain men. All 12 players on the squad saw action before jammed crowd of 2,000 spectators.

A new Trojan star emerged from the championship battle in the person of sophomore center Dave Mileski who contributed heavily to the St. Joe stretch drive that swept L'Anse to defeat.

Mileski Leads Rally

Mileski pulled rebounds off both boards with astounding ease as the lanky L'Anse players battled to get back in the ball game late in the third period and throughout the early minutes of the fourth quarter.

In addition to his excellent work under the baskets, Mileski scored nine points in the last period to lead the St. Joe rally. His 11 points for the night was matched on the scoreboard by guards John Martinac and Bob Sendenburgh and forward Jim Gravelle.

Arron Storm of L'Anse came out with high point honors on his total of 18.

Trojans Trail 36-22

In the opening minute of the third period L'Anse extended its lead to 36-22, widest margin of the game up to that point. Gravelle, Martinac and Dave Hirn found the range from the field and the free throw line to narrow it to 38-32 halfway through the period.

Mileski, Sendenburgh, Jim Zimmerman and Gravelle kept the pressure on in the late minutes of the period as the Trojans gradually overtook the baffled L'Anse quint. Sendenburgh dropped in the field goal that put St. Joe ahead for the first time in the entire ball game, 40-39. Gravelle and Mileski scored buckets before L'Anse's Ed Jestila caged a free throw to make the third-quarter score read 44-40 for St. Joe.

Fast Finish

L'Anse was never in the ball game after the start of the fourth quarter. St. Joe ran it up to 48-40 and then connected for 15 straight points to lead 63-42 while L'Anse was losing three players on personal fouls. Storm went out at the four minute mark, Wallace Johnson left with three and a half minutes remaining and Jestila fouled out in the final seconds.

Both teams scored 16 free throws and St. Joe had a 24-14 edge in field goals. The victory was the 13th of the season against three defeats for the Trojans who will enter regional tournament play at Houghton Friday night. The other district champions who will battle it out in the Class C finals are Crystal Falls, Painesdale and Bessemer.

BEN ARTWICH—Outstanding goalie with the Escanaba Hawks, Ben Artwich, will be guarding the nets tomorrow night when the Hawks entertain Marquette's Sentinels in the second game of the Northern Michigan Hockey League playoffs. The Hawks will be seeking to even the series after losing to Marquette 4-3 Sunday night. Opening faceoff at the fairgrounds rink is set for 8:15. (Daily Press Photo) tomorrow night to keep its championship hopes alive. If Marquette wins, it will go on to the championship finals against the winner of the Portage Lake-Calumet series.

If Escanaba wins tomorrow night, the Hawks and Sentinels would settle the issue in a "rubber" game in Marquette Thursday night. Both squads escaped last night's clash without serious injury and will be at full strength when Petaja's tally, again on Olson's assist — 36 seconds after the opening faceoff.

Eady was the big difference in Marquette's win last night. The agile pickman, whose rough, aggressive play also resulted in him being tabbed for Marquette's only two penalties of the night, scored the opener at 5:49 and he also set up Jim Swoen and Bucky O'Neil for the two goals that gave Marquette a 3-1 lead going into the finale.

Seven of the game's nine penalties were called on Escanaba. Cy Clement, of Houghton, was the head official with Fred Brunelle and John Hume working the blue lines.

Despite the fact Escanaba was playing its sixth game in nine days, the Hawks started out with a bang. They had a clearcut offensive edge in the opening period, firing 12 shots at Jim DeMarinis, Sentinel goalie, to only nine at big Ben Artwich, but they missed several good scoring opportunities that proved costly.

Joe Ricci, Burt Petaja and Len Webster had good chances to collect on breakaways in the first period, but each time the payoff puck was missing. After Eady's opening counter, Petaja finally connected on Mark Olson's assist at 15:48 to tie it up.

The first period, which many dyed-in-the-wool Marquette fans described as one of the finest periods of play all season, ended in a 1-1 deadlock. The Hawks started the third period trailing by 3-1, but they quickly returned to contention with Petaja's tally, again on Olson's assist — 36 seconds after the opening faceoff.

Roy Olson stole the puck and surprised Artwich with a sharp angle shot from the left side with the goal that proved to be the winning margin. That came at 7:25, but a minute and a half later, Webster beat DeMarinis, on one of the prettiest plays of the night. Ricci started the play from his own blue line, passed to Petaja who set up the fast-skating Webster near the goal mouth.

The necessity of spelling off 14 minutes of penalty time with its top talent was a factor that contributed to Escanaba's loss, although the Hawks kept pushing all the way. Marquette had to spell off only four minutes of penalty time with its "penalty lineup."

But all in all, it was a fast, exciting and well-played game that will be a large crowd of nearly 2,000 on edge all the way.

More of the same is anticipated when the rivals battle in Escanaba Tuesday night.

Summary: Marquette—DeMarinis, Boesler, Marlowe, R. Olson, Van Overloop, Vasseau, G. Olson, Quinn, Eady, Swoen, Law-

Eskymos Nipped 62-61 By Menominee In B Title Tilt

Free Throw In Final Seconds Decides Winner

STEPHENSON — Escanaba's valiant bid for a second straight Class B district basketball championship was foiled by a free throw with 30 seconds remaining in the game and Menominee captured the crown by a 62-61 margin before a standing room only crowd of 1,100 fans here Saturday night.

Coach Burt Gustafson's Eskymos battled the rangy Maroons right down to the wire and had a decided playing edge through most of the game. Except for the early minutes of the game and for a brief moment late in the second period, Escanaba led Menominee until the final minute of action in the third quarter.

Winning Free Throw

And with only 30 seconds remaining in the game Menominee guard Mike Ranach dropped in the free throw that gave the Maroons their one-point victory. Reserve guard Tom Gregoire connected with a two-hand field goal seconds later to make the score 62-61 but the Eskymos couldn't get another point.

Gregoire nearly snatched victory out of defeat for the Eskymos in the final second of play when he fired a shot from three-quarters of the length of the court as the final gun sounded. The ball slammed into the backboard in a direct line with the basket but caromed off the rim.

Menominee gained the upper hand late in the third period when Escanaba's stellar guard Fred Boddy drew his fourth personal foul and was benched for the last two minutes and 10 seconds of the quarter.

Eskymos Lose Lead

At that time Escanaba was leading 41-35 and before the period ended the Maroons had wrested a 45-43 lead.

Back in action in the final period Boddy teamed up with center Dick Peterson in a drive which steadily whittled Menominee's margin. They scored a pair of field goals while John Christopherson hit once for Menominee and it was tied at 47-47.

At the halfway mark in the final period Boddy potted a long push shot to tie it again at 52-52 and Escanaba went ahead 53-52 when Boddy dropped a free throw after being fouled by Christopherson.

Boddy put Menominee ahead 54-53 with a field goal but Boddy hit again from the side and Escanaba tied 55-54.

Pete Petaja entered the picture to tie it up with a free throw and he caged another to put the Maroons ahead 56-55. Fraik scored a bucket and Ranach hit two more free throws to send Menominee out in front 61-55.

With a minute remaining Dick Peterson scored twice for the Eskymos to cut the lead to 61-59. Ranach made his deciding free throw after being fouled by Boddy while driving in for a layup. It was Boddy's fifth personal.

The game opened with Menominee scoring first and taking a 4-1 lead before the Eskymos found the range. Dick and John Peterson each scored five points for the Eskymos as they finished the initial period with a 17-13 lead. Four of Menominee's first period points came in the final five seconds and two of them were the result of a mixup by the officials.

Fraik had scored a field goal and was fouled while shooting. He missed his gift toss and John Peterson took the rebound cleanly for the Eskymos. But referee Joe Stockero whistled the ball back to the free throw line thinking that Fraik had another opportunity coming. He was corrected by head official Dave Douglas who then called for a jump ball in Menominee's free throw circle. The tip went to Ranach who whirled and sent a jump shot through the nets just as the period ended.

The Eskymos maintained their edge until the late in the second period when the Maroons slipped ahead 30-29 on field goal from far out by Ranach. But Escanaba came back on two baskets by John Peterson and one by Dick Peterson to lead 35-31 at the end of the frame.

Escanaba increased its lead to 41-35 until the two minute mark of the third period when Menominee began the drive that netted victory in the final minute of the game.

Manistique Clips Newberry 91-75 For Class B Honors

NEWBERRY — The Manistique Emeralds, rallying after a weak first quarter start against a red hot Newberry team, captured class B district basketball honors here Saturday night and earned the right to enter the regional tournament this week at Negaunee.

The Emeralds, led by their "big three," pumped 56 counters through the hoops in the last half to win by a decisive 91-75 figure.

A big factor in Manistique's victory was the marksmanship of Bob McNamara who pelted 12 field goals and eight free shots through the laces for 32 points. Warren Wilson dropped in nine field buckets and four free throws for 22 and Paul Hinkson counted for 20 markers with nine field shots and a brace of charity tosses.

Four Foul Out

High scorer for the inspired Indians was D. Brennan who sank seven buckets and five gift shots for 19. Only one foul was charged against him during the game. Londo, small but deadly on the floor and the scoreboard, hit for seven field shots and four free throws before he fouled out in the fourth period. Newberry's big Loeffler hit for 13, and also fouled out in the final frame.

The Emeralds also lost two of their stalwarts in the windup quarter, Wilson and Hinkson collecting their fatal fifth personal foul near the end of the game.

Manistique established an early lead but soon lost it because of ragged shooting and the driving game that the Indians played. All through the opening stanza the Emeralds seemed unable to find their scoring range, and finished the period with a 17-14 deficit.

Emeralds Tie Count

It was not until near the middle of the second quarter that the Emerald offense began to click when buckets by Scharstrom and Hinkson knotted the score at 23-

all. Newberry then pulled ahead again with two free throws but McNamara tied the count again at 27, and a field shot by Scharstrom gave the Emeralds their first lead since early in the first, 29-27. At half time Manistique led, 35-31.

The Indians again slashed back viciously in the third period, tying the score twice at 41-41 and 43-43 but they were never again able to forge ahead.

The Emeralds, improving their game as the Indians seemed to tire from the harsh pace, gradually widened the breach and held a 62-54 margin at the beginning of the final period.

Manistique took complete command of the game in the last quarter, sinking 29 points and lengthening their margin until the final three minutes of play when Coach Rudy Brandstrom sent in his substitutes. Before the utility men went in the count stood at 87-67. Newberry managed to slice four points out of the gap before the whistle. James Garvin hoisted the last Emerald counter through the hoop, sinking a long side shot at the bell.

The big one, of course, is Saturday March 21. That's when they'll play in the regional event.

The day when champions will be crowned in Class A, B, C and D. In Class E, the winner of this week's regional playoffs will rule as state champion.

"We decided to press them without fouling and it worked. At the start of the second half, we got a break by scoring six straight points. That put us into a good lead."

Class A Starts

Edmore plays Reed City Tuesday night in the start of the regionals but Purdy, a realist, isn't making any predictions.

"We just had a good night against St. Louis," he said, "and I hope we can do as well in the regionals."

The regional playoffs will be spiced by the addition of the Class A teams which, as usual, didn't participate in the district eliminations.

The team they'll be trying to topple in Class A is defending champion Highland Park.

If we had to pick which of the defending champions had the best chance of repeating, we'd pick Detroit St. Andrew, even though Class B is packed with outstanding teams.

Poise And Power

St. Andrew has displayed both poise and scoring power so far and should be a hard team to whip from now on. It crushed Holy Redeemer, 69-56, Saturday night, for its 67th victory in 68 games.

Fowler (Class D) also won handily, whipping Ashley, 53-26. Only Nahma (Class E) had a tight squeak, edging past Perkins, 56-52.

Accidents Kill 20 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty weekend fatal accidents in Michigan were listed today. Ten were victims of traffic mishaps and seven children in Flint died in fires at two homes.

Two Jackson youths succumbed to carbon monoxide poisoning. A Lansing girl was electrocuted.

The body of Frank E. Carney, 48, of Dearborn, was found by the side of the road today by Suburban Dearborn police. His body had been tossed 35 feet, apparently the victim of a hit-run driver.

The death toll by fire rose to seven Sunday when a crude vaporizer, made from an electric corn popper and a coffee can, apparently ignited the blankets of three-months-old Vicki Lynn Crannie in Flint. The child, who was being treated by her parents for a cold, died of burns and suffocation.

Two victims of carbon monoxide poisoning were found Sunday in a Jackson service station. William Evans, 25, preparing his car for a trip to Florida, and Jack McLoath, 14, were killed by the fumes.

Washington School PTA Meets Tonight

The Washington PTA will meet tonight at 7:45 at the school.

The program will consist of a playlet, "Fresh Variable Winds," which will be given by a group of high school students under the direction of Vernon Ihlenfeldt; a discussion period with Miss Anderson, RN, moderator; and a talk on the proposed school bond issue for an elementary school by George Ruwitch, assistant superintendent of schools.

A treat will be given the pupils of the room with the highest percentage of parents attending.

Miss Goodney's second grade parents will serve lunch after the program. Mrs. Edwin Skipper and Mrs. Gerald St. Peter are co-chairmen of the lunch committee.

Bus Hits Underpass; 15 Persons Injured

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Greyhound bus crashed into an abutment of an underpass today, injuring at least 15 persons. Police said three were believed critically hurt.

The left side of the big vehicle was sheared off, officers said. They said no other vehicle was involved.

Police said 25 to 30 passengers were aboard. Several persons were pinned by the seats on the left side. A woman sitting in the front seat on the right side was thrown through the windshield. She was one of those critically hurt.

The injured were taken to three emergency hospitals, but most of them were later transferred to the main police receiving hospital.

Homeopath Appointed On Michigan Board

LANSING (AP)—The Senate yesterday confirmed Gov. Williams' appointment of a homeopath to the state board of registration in medicine.

The appointee is Dr. Paul G. Hanna of St. Joseph.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) chairman of the Senate Business Committee which recommended confirmation, told the chamber that Dr. Hanna is not a member of the Michigan State Medical Society, but that the society did not protest the confirmation.

Homeopathic medicine is based on the principle that "like cures like." It prescribes minute doses of such medicines as would produce in a healthy person the symptoms of the disease treated.

Frigate Of Egyptian Navy Sinks; 54 Perish

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—A death toll of 54 was announced today in the sinking of the Egyptian Navy frigate Solum in a fierce windstorm 12 miles off Alexandria Saturday night.

The disaster was the worst in the history of Egypt's modern Navy.

A Polish freighter, the Czech, rescued 61 of the Solum's crew of 114 by towing hastily built rafts for the sailors to clamber onto. Towering waves prevented the launching of lifeboats.

Armored Vests And Psychiatry Reduce Casualties In Korea

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Front-line psychiatry and the armored vest have proved vital aids in reducing casualties in Korea to a level approaching the absolute minimum, says Maj. Gen. Silas B. Hays.

Hays, the Army's deputy surgeon general, also credited such improved medical techniques as the use of blood extenders, which work like plasma in fighting shock.

Among Americans wounded in Korea only about 2½ per cent die. Hays told yesterday's opening session at the alumni convention of the College of Medical Evangelists, an institution operated by the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Fewer Neurotics

During World War II about 4½ per cent of the wounded succumbed, against 8 per cent in World War I.

Statistics on the effectiveness of the vests are incomplete, but Hays said he had heard reports of only one fatality in nine wounded among those wearing vests, and added, "When the figures are in we expect the ratio to be about 1 in 6, perhaps 1 in 7."

Armored shorts are too new for speculation on the number of lives saved, Hays told the convention.

All casualties sent home from Korea, those suffering psychoneurotic breakdowns account for only 4 per cent, compared with 22 to 23 per cent invalided home after such breakdowns during World War II, he said.

Not Many Sent Home

The number of breakdowns proportionately is about the same for all three wars—World War I, World War II and Korea, but we have been able to do much better in the field in Korea, and the number sent home is far less than before."

In Korea, each division has a psychiatrist, assisted by the battalion surgeon, the general said. Two-thirds of the breakdown cases are rehabilitated and returned to duty without leaving the division. Of those who must be sent behind the lines for treatment the percentage of returns is lower.

"The farther back a man goes for treatment, the less likely is he to return to front-line combat," Hays said.

Treatment starts with the battalion surgeon, who provides rest and reassurance, and applies the group incentive principle. The latter includes such appeals as, "You don't want to leave all your buddies fighting up there on the front," he said.

Cases Screened Out

"Early in the Korea fighting we evacuated breakdown cases by air to hospitals where there were clean

Three Small Children Die In Quebec Fire

ST. OMER DE L'ISLET, Que. (AP)—A fire sweeping through a wooden home here yesterday burned to death three small children.

Alfred Choinard, the father, returned home in time to save a fourth child, Herve, 2, but the infant, in a hospital with severe burns, was not expected to live.

The dead were Lucien, 4, Lise, 3, and Fernande, 3 months. The cause of the blaze was not determined.

Top Secret Report Given On Russia's Atom Bomb Efforts

that the Soviets, so far as is known, have exploded only three atomic devices. One school of thought contends this probably is evidence the last one of the series satisfied Russian nuclear weapons that they had developed what they wanted and that the USSR therefore was going into quantity production.

This thinking seemed to conflict with the fact that the U. S. has conducted repeated atomic explosion tests even while going ahead with stockpiling of operational weapons.

However, it has been Soviet military policy to "freeze" weapons designs when a reasonably satisfactory model has been evolved.

The guns themselves have been in existence for at least two years. They were given public demonstrations, firing conventional ammunition, last year. But until now there has been no atomic ammunition to pass to the artillerymen.

Scientists from the AEC's Los Alamos laboratory and Army ordnance experts apparently have succeeded in packing an atomic explosive into a shell about 11 inches in diameter—the approximate bore of the big guns.

The announcement said the Neveda test would not be public.

The agency which specializes in news of the Roman Catholic Church, said its figures came from a well-informed person who recently left the small Communist country.

The same refugee reported that scores of priests and seminarians are confined to Albanian jails.

Fides said its informant listed a number of tortures employed by Albania's Communist police, including the breaking of bones, immersing in scalding water and causing a victim to stand, covered up to his neck, in the filth of a septic tank.

"No Trace Of Missing Battle Creek Plane With Four On Board should be refueled or supplied in a British port.

That means that strategically located fueling stations like Gibraltar, Suez, Aden, Singapore and Hong Kong will be closed to Red China shipping.

The third point Dulles and Eden agreed upon was that "the U. S. and British governments will concert their efforts to secure the cooperation of other maritime and trading nations in the measures designed to exclude the shipments of strategic material to the mainland of China."

Most From Russia

No other nations were named, but officials suggested that countries which have substantial merchant fleets would be approached. They mentioned Norway, Sweden, The Netherlands, France, Italy, Finland and Panama.

The agreement will not sever the flow of war material Red China is receiving. China gets, by rough estimate, about 75 per cent of its imports overland from Russia and only about 25 per cent from Russia and all other sources by sea.

The missing plane was piloted by Harold Stevenson of Battle Creek, Mich. Also aboard it were his wife, their daughter, Mrs. Sharon Warren of Battle Creek, and a friend, Charles Stembol, Marshall, Mich. The group had been vacationing in Mexico.

Alfred planes have not been permitted to strike them in Manchuria. But if Chinese river and harbor traffic could be bombed by U. S. Navy planes, then the Air Force probably would want to hit Chinese air traffic over Manchurian bases.

That would open up new fields of operation in the Korean War.

Five Saved In Fire By Owosso Boy, 12

OWOSO (AP)—Twelve-year-old "Butch" Holland was credited today with saving the lives of his parents and their three younger children before flames destroyed their home.

He then wrapped his sister, Bonnie, 5, in a blanket and left her on a living room couch, while he raced upstairs to alert his sleeping parents. He later carried Bonnie to safety.

An overheated furnace was blamed for the fire.

tended to take part in committee or Council sessions.

Dulles gets an Amvets peace award at a luncheon to be held in Lie's private dining room here tomorrow, and they may go back to Washington. Eden plans to leave Friday for London.

Their agreement in Washington on curbing strategic materials for Red China managed to plug loopholes in the U. N. Assembley embargo without opening up a bitter public debate. Talk before this session opened of expanding the embargo terms led to speculation that the relations of U. N. allies would be strained. The agreement avoided this.

Red Prisoners Quiet After Riot

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Rebellious North Korean prisoners on Yoncho Island were quiet today in the aftermath of a riot Saturday in which 23 POWs were killed and 42 wounded.

The latest in a series of bloody incidents by Red prisoners flared when an unarmed compound commander ordered the Communists to break camp rules, POW headquarters said.

Sixty to 70 prisoners replied by throwing rocks at the commander and his assistant.

Three other compounds joined the demonstration.

Lt. Col. Gerald Momeyer, camp commander, ordered the use of non-toxic gas grenades. When this failed to stop the POWs, Momeyer ordered his men to open fire.

Several Allied guards were injured, none seriously.

Yoncho is a few hundred yards from notorious Koje Island, the scene of the first serious POW riots.

Republicans Try To Squelch Rebuff

Democrats can support.

Resolution Revised

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow will officially recall its version of the resolution, recommended for Senate passage last week by an 8-6 vote.

What stirred the Democrats' opposition and led to the current stalemate was the committee's action in adding a provision saying the resolution would not place Congress in the position of passing on the validity or invalidity of the wartime agreements.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said he will lay before the committee a revision of the resolution which would condemn Russia without mentioning World War II big power agreements.
